"Contemplation is a gaze of faith, fixed on Jesus. 'I look at Him and He looks at me': this is what a certain peasant of Ars used to say to his holy Curé (St. John Vianney) about his prayer before the tabernacle"

(Catechism of the Catholic Church, No. 2715).

We may look at Jesus, and Jesus will look at us in Eucharistic Adoration. There is nothing more we need to do.

The mode of Christ's presence under the Eucharistic species is unique. It raises the Eucharist above all the sacraments as "the perfection of the spiritual life and the end to which all sacraments tend." In the Most Blessed Sacrament of the Eucharist "the body and blood, together with the soul and divinity, of Our Lord Jesus Christ and, therefore, the whole Christ is truly, really, and substantially contained." "This presence is called 'real' - by which is not intended to exclude the other types of presence as if they could not be 'real' too, but because it is presence in the fullest sense: that is to say, it is a substantial presence by which Christ, God and man, makes Himself wholly and entirely present."
