

Praesidium is the leading innovator of scientifically-based solutions designed to transform the way organizations approach the prevention of sexual abuse. Praesidium's expertise, consulting, and solutions help to foster safer environments for children, vulnerable adults, staff, volunteers, and all parties involved.

For over 30 years, Praesidium has trained more than one million people online and hundreds of thousands in person. We are committed to serving organizations like yours in their efforts to protect those in their care from abuse. We understand that each organization has unique requirements, which is why we offer customizable solutions tailored to your specific needs.

As the largest and most comprehensive sexual abuse risk management firm globally, Praesidium knows how sexual abuse happens and, more importantly, how to prevent it.
